Eva Rolter, 3, left, was invited to sit down with the princesses and eat pancakes at the Kiwanis annual Pancake Breakfast With Princesses on Jan. 11 at the Sacred Heart Cafeteria in Morrilton. When asked who her favorite princesses are, she replied Belle and Snow White, and they all laughed because those were the very two princesses she got to sit next to: Baylee Sparks, 16, playing Belle, center, and Anna Jones, 16, portraying Snow White.

The Edwards family of Morrilton showed up ready to meet princesses and eat pancakes. From left are Adeline, 2, Bethy, and Annelise, 5, as Elena of Avalor.

Alex Gunn, 15, as Elsa, converses and jokes with patrons and other princesses as breakfast is served during the Kiwanis Club's Pancake Breakfast With Princesses.

Piper Hoyt, 6, covers her pancakes in syrup just the way she likes them, being meticulous about what syrup goes where and on which piece.

Kiwanis Club members Angela Austin, a board member, left, and Carey Ruff, the club's secretary, work together to move the sausage from the hot baking pan to the more convenient serving pan to help make the process easier when the expected rush of people occurs.

William Silveria, 6, leaves his dad at the door to pay and heads straight over to get his pancake breakfast all by himself.

Cooper Beck, 3, excitedly shows his grandfather John Freneda the butter he plans to put on his next pancake. Several members of Cooper's family joined him for the all-you-can-eat pancake fundraiser.

Dalton Wood, 11 months, grips his pancake the entire time he eats while looking around at the people who have joined him in the eating area.
